

Customised Competency Reports

More valid, more usable psychometric information

Overview

Given their clear links with job performance, personality traits and mental ability assessments are the foundations of talent selection and development programmes.

As more companies embrace Competency frameworks, China Select can now offer psychometric reports written for your specific Competencies, for Selection or Development purposes, at highly affordable prices.

How

Combining modern reporting software with our expertise in talent assessment, here's how we produce your customised report:

1. Personality traits (and mental abilities) are "mapped" to your Competency model
2. Results are presented with easy to interpret Competency scores
3. Reports are designed with your company branding

Benefits

Customised Competency Reports typically have the following benefits:

- Clear alignment with strategic HR talent management
- Easier fit with your assessment process
- Higher acceptance by line managers and participants
- Stronger validity of insights
- No specialist training
